Article 5 – about the admission test

Candidates are considered solely responsible for possible signal interruptions that may occur during the admission test that would prevent them from partially or fully completing the exam.

Should the bad signal or a signal interruption impede the proctor's monitoring of the location where the test is being taken the Head of the Competition Procedure, in agreement with the Commission, has the authority to exclude the candidate from the competition.

Candidates are required to follow any further instructions or technical details Selexi might provide.

By activating the video connection candidates give their consent for the video recording and the collection of personal data necessary for the time tracing and reconstruction of each phase of the test.

Candidates who log in after the identification phase has ended or without a valid identity document will not be admitted to the test, regardless of circumstance.

Candidates who are absent from the test after the closure of the identification procedures will be considered as renunciative.
